What we've been doing

6 July 2021

Hayley Green Wood

Our task was bramble clearance from close to the path through Hayley Green Wood. Many of the brambles were quite difficult to uproot, and forks/spades/mattocks were needed. We cleared a large area, which was quite satisfying for a day's work.

We were pleased to be complimented on our work by a member of the public.

11 volunteers attended. The weather was cloudy and dry.

Horseshoe Lake

We removed Himalayan balsam from an area close to the car park. We worked on both sides of the stream, moving to the other side of the entrance when done.

A sub-group removed bramble from the path near the lake. Another sub-group removed a patch of very large balsam plants from beside the river close to Moor Green nature reserve.

15 volunteers attended. The weather was sunny and warm.

Our tools czar showed us his newly-constructed log arch, for transporting tree trunks.
